

OADC Listserv Guidelines

Don't "Reply All"

If you think the topic is interesting or want more information about that topic, contact the member who posted the original email and ask the member to share information with you. But also remember that sometimes people click the wrong button, so give folks a break when they accidentally write back to the full membership.

Don't Advertise

This isn't the place to poach other members' associates or sell your car. Please do not post outside industry events or charitable causes. If you think an event or issue should be publicized to OADC members, contact Geoff Horning at the OADC at ghorning@oadc.com with your request.

The Listserv is Not Confidential

Anything you post could get into the wrong hands. Remember that when you're writing. Be courteous and professional. It is also a violation of the Listserv rules to post anything defamatory, abusive, profane, or to use the Listserv for any illegal purpose.

Please remember to be courteous, respectful, and topical on our Listserv.

The OADC Listserv Rules and instructions for how to use the Listserv can be found on OADC's website: oadc.com